FRANK CUNNINGHAM

15 November 1951 - 28 May 2024

Frank Cunningham, beloved father, Papa, friend, mentor, and brother-in-Christ.

Gone to his heavenly home, he is greatly missed by his family and friends.
Oh, how our hearts ache for his presence!

Frank is survived by his daughter, Emma Swanston, her husband, Ian, and their daughter, Eve; his daughter, Stacy Kalisz, and husband, Tyson, along with their children Esther, Josiah, and Ruth; his former wife and friend, Faith Cunningham, and extended family members in Ireland.

A dedicated father and grandfather, Frank always had time for his family. With phone calls, cards, visits, and texts, we had no doubt about his deep love for us. We can't believe we were lucky enough to call him our own.

A character through and through, Frank brought so much joy to others with his warm smile, fun-filled antics, yummy crockpot meals, and silly songs and jokes.

A lover of chocolate, the West Tigers, and all things Ireland, Frank blessed us with his listening ear, loyal friendship, kindness, and care. If you ever needed something, you could count on Frank. Authentic and approachable, Frank was the epitome of a true-blue Aussie.

With God at the center of his life, Frank was a true example of humility, always deflecting any praise of himself and striving to point others to Christ. He loved his Southwest church family (and the church Australia-wide) and cared so much about their spiritual growth.

Called to care for the underserved and hurting, Frank devoted much of his time to the local community and found great fulfillment and joy in working with the children at Rosemeadow Primary School as well as teaching scripture class at Blairmount Public School.

May we all strive to be more like Frank. To love others well. To listen intently. To mark our words with kindness and grace. To minister to the hurting. To be humble, hard-working, selfless, generous, and willing to share.

Let's stand firm and keep pressing on until we see him again.
